SUNSTROKE.

A SATISFACTORY YEAR

BRITAIN'S MIGHT.

Immediate Relief for Those Stricken by Heat.

Intelligent and immediate action in cases of sunstroke or heat prostration will save many lives during the present heated term.

The two distinct forms of sunstroke and their treatment is distinctly different.

In one form, "heat exhausted," which is the milder of the two, the skin is pale, cold and clammy and the pulse is feeble.

In this form the patient usually recovers, though death sometimes ensues.

The treatment is to remove the patient to a cool place and at least out of the direct rays of the sun.

Loosen all clothing, especially about the neck.

Give cold water to drink and, if possible, apply sprays of ammonia and borax to the nostrils.

In some cases it may be necessary to give small quantities of alcoholic stimulants.

In the other form, heat stroke or heat stroke, the symptoms are more serious.

The face is purplish, the eyes bloodshot, the veins enlarged and the skin dry, hot and full of life.

The effects of the sun seem to be most marked on the head and neck.

The brain becomes so heated that the chest centre controlling the production of heat is affected and the temperature rises from the healthy one of 98.5 degrees to as high as 103 or over.

This condition is so serious that a physician must be called as soon as possible.

While waiting the doctor's arrival, much good can be done and lives saved by application of ice to the head and spinal column.

It will do more good if broken up into small pieces, placed in wet cloths or rubber bags, but in the absence of these, pieces of ice can be placed about the head and neck.

Workmen and others exposed to the direct rays of the sun should have their heads protected and their faces cooled by next to the skin.

A useful precaution is a pad of cotton batting or flannel sewed along the back of the collar, and around the spine so as to protect it.

The Annual Meeting of the Albert College Board of Management.

The annual meeting of the Board of Management of Albert College was held at the College yesterday afternoon, Dr. W. H. Gordon presiding.

At the meeting, the annual statement, which showed that the buildings and other property amounted to about $70,000, and the debt had all been paid off with the exception of $3,000.

Dr. Dyer, School Treasurer, read his statement, showing a surplus on the year's business of about $150.

This result was only obtained by the most careful and economical management, and reflects great credit upon Dr. Dyer.

Dr. Dyer also presented the Principal's report, which, while showing a slight decrease in attendance, was most satisfactory.

There has been a marked increase in the work of the higher classes as compared with previous years.

To show that the faculty are thoroughly competent to carry on the higher work the fact may be mentioned that of the class of five for senior matriculation all passed and Mr. Smith, one of the number, obtained the highest number of marks of any student in the province.

The President was highly of the teaching staff, both as to their loyalty to the institution and their faithfulness to their duties.

Rev. W. G. Clark, who was appointed financial agent of the College in January last, will continue to act in that capacity.

A VIOLENT STORM.

The crops were badly cut, whole fields of grain were flattened to the earth, trees were uprooted and general devastation prevailed.

MARCHED TO CHURCH.

The Orangemen, Presbyter Boys and True Blues at St. Andrew's Church.

Although the heat was intense yesterday forenoon there was a fairly good turnout by the Orangemen, Presbyter Boys and True Blues to attend divine service at St. Andrew's church.

Before taking his text Rev. M. W. Macdonald said he had been much impressed by reading the conditions of the orders before him. Their first duty was to maintain the constitution of the country in which they lived, and this was the duty of Christians. Their next duty was to help their fellowmen, which was another Christian principle. The constitution also calls for toleration, meaning that no man must be persecuted on account of his belief. This was also a Christian principle, patriotism, benevolence and toleration.

Such duty aims gave the members of these orders much to do, and the associations will be strong as each individual is loyal to its principles.

His text was James 4:14, "For what is your life?"

The answer to this question varies according to the individual who answers it. The good life has been a disappointment and dreamy tale. To others it has been a well of excitement and gratification, but life was none of these in a future. The foundation of the faith of G. I. was a future state and our lives were stepping stones to that state. Death was not so awful as life. Life should be lived for the darkness preceding eternal light. The word of God clearly told us life was a divine gift and whether it was a blessing or a curse remained with the individual. Life was a teacher, as new things were always coming up in our daily lives. We learned our weaknesses and that nothing in this world was abiding. Life was a discipline. If a man believed sin to be a crime, he would naturally avoid it, but if he looked upon sin merely as a mistake he would continue in it. Man should remember that his life had an influence for good or evil on his fellow men and he should consider his responsibility. Our joys and sorrows are God's discipline. Life is harmony with the divine will, and the greatest protection and guidance; that is the true life. If the orders before him would follow their plan they would make their association a strength in life. May God help us to be true to the aims we have set before us.

Thomson, Martin, of Thorlow, who is 83 years of age, was in the procession. Another old gentleman aged 85 years associated with him.

"GOLD! GOLD! GOLD!"

Further Grand News From our Northern El Dorado.

The Output of Gold from the Canadian Gold Fields Company's works at Deloro is not only $200 per day, as previously reported in these columns exclusively; it is much more than that—probably from $800 to $1000 per day in gold, and the ore, which is being laid aside for future treatment for arsenic, which will yield $25 per ton or thereabouts. Roasting apparatus, for the purpose of securing the arsenic, will in due time be put in. Meantime Mr. Stoeney, the manager, has stated his entire satisfaction with the bromo-cyanide process now in use for extracting the gold, and the Company will at once proceed to enlarge materially the capacity of their works.

The late in Bridgewater which was purchased by this Company was the Clapp property, and the price is stated at $3,000.

Some time ago it was stated that Mr. A. W. Canfield, M. P., had sold a portion of his property in Belmont—about the Belmont mine, which he recently sold for $55,000—for $30,000. We are now able to confirm this statement on authority beyond question.

The present gold mine in Belmont, which was formerly the Fein mine, and which had lately been owned by a company from Syracuse, New York, who are now preparing to operate it on a large scale. The price was $25,000.

The foregoing highly important information, and much more almost equally satisfactory, has been furnished by men of great experience in our mining region and who have large interests there. They concur in the opinion that matters are, on the whole, most satisfactory, and that the Hastings mining region has a great future before it.

As to the failure of the Craig mine, these gentlemen note in stating that it was possible to work a gold mine at a profit with a process which is not adapted to the ore of this region and insufficient reducing and extracting apparatus. "I would sooner," said one of our informants, "have seen a hand crushed and panned out the crushing. Hand labor would probably have paid at that mill. At all events, it would have given much better results than the apparatus that was used."

Potato Bugs.

After many experiments to destroy these pests, nothing yet has been discovered equal to Pure Paris Green, an early and thorough application of which is always successful. We have the pure Government Standard quality at 25c per lb or 5 lb for $1.—ALEX. RAY.

RHEUMATISM & DYSPEPSIA CURED

751 St. Patrick Street,

OTTAWA, July 13th, 1896.

To the Phenomenal Medicine Co., Ltd.

OTTAWA, Ont.

GENTLEMEN:—On the advice of a friend

I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phenomenal, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me no harm, amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phenomenal, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to my sufferers.

Yours very truly,

She looked bewildered and shook her

know what you were saying that night,

my dear darling. To Kiln? Oh, I had only just known, guessed that I had a long breath."

"To Kiln, or near there," she said.

"And there I found some good, kind people—a father and daughter. The kindest, sweetest, dearest girl—but you will see her. She is not my daughter.

We are like sisters, and you must love her for my sake."

you were well and happy? But why didn't you write before. Oh, dearest, if you had but written day after day—after you met with those people, and told me you were safe, how much less I should have suffered. But never mind, never mind. What is their name?"

"Her face had grown pale again, and troubled with doubt and perplexity

as she wrote 7. I did not write," she replied.

"He looked up at her, smiling.

"Have you forgotten it, Nora?" He laughed a short, happy laugh. "Why, my dear, I have not. I have not forgotten little Nora, in my pocket of this moment. I say you are safe, and you are at it as if she could not tell you her eyes, then she turned her face to him with a troubled frown.

"I did not write," she said.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

"You did not write this?" repeated

Nora, looking at her in astonishment.

She shook her head, with a puzzled

look on her face.

"No; where did you get it from?"

"I found it in a book," she said. "It was the last, the kindest friend I have ever had. It was that he made an awful mistake in thinking that I was not didn't care for me."

"He told you that?" she said in a low voice.

"Yes," he said. "I was wrong; I knew that now; but I believed him.

He said something about you being lucky. I knew your face when I told you that I loved you. I doubted his judgment. You were not, but you meant it for the best. He kept your letter from me for some time. You see,

I was half-mad by your love."

Her eyes beamed a wealth of love and ply upon him.

"And you say you did not write it?"

"Why—why," he laughed, "you must forget it and forget me."

"Do you think so?" she said. "But I did not write it, all the same."

"He looked at her, smiling.

"But—how—how did Sen come to it?" she demanded.

"She handed him the note without glancing at it again."

"At a glance of paper and a pencil," she said, very quietly.

"He tore a leaf out of his pocket-book,

and wrote it with a pen which he found in a box."

She wrote a few lines, in sense as near as like those of the note as possible.

"I have saved the paper to this."

"Compare them," she said, simply.

"I compared them," she said. "The notes were quite dissimilar, palpably so."

"You see?" she said.

"Yano looked from the notes to her

WHEEL-PEOPLE'S NOTES.

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but soft words turneth a man's soul with anger.

Thomas Scott and F. O. Meyers, of Kingston, were in the city yesterday morning on a bicycle run.

A bicyclist having only one arm and one leg was seen scorching along the Waterloo road, near Guelph, a few days ago.

C. W. Richardson, of Toronto, who rode in the Jubilee races in this city on June last, has now for Glasgow, Scotland, to represent the C. W. A. in the championship of the world races on July 20th, 21st and Aug. 2nd.

In passing young horses that appear staunch (right), caution should be exercised by bicyclists. Attention has been called to one case where a young animal has been killed by a rider running right to a horse, and barely turning to his left as the animal in time to escape his descending hoofs.

WOMEN WINNING BY DEGREES.

From time out of mind it has been an axiom that a man is the better for all the physical exercises he can take, and that exhaustion or damage to his vital organs is the result of over-exercising.

Providence alone has prevented the same thing being said with regard to women.

By it, as they have overcome their deep-rooted prejudice with regard to one physical exercise, or another, women think to the advent of the bicycle, are proving that exercise within the same limits is just as beneficial to them as it is to men. It is true that even in cycling they are still handicapped by dress, by the disorder of their muscular system for general reasons, and by the lack of the early training which every schoolboy has the benefit of,

but all that is being remedied as each day brings new recruits to the vast army of wheelmen.

Fall Fairs.

It will not be very long now until "fall fairs" are upon us. This year should witness on the average better exhibits than ever before. The crop outlook is excellent and an abundant harvest is promised.

Fruits are plentiful and, for the most part, are of excellent quality. The competition of manufacturers exhibits at all fairs should surpass preceding years.

The idea of fall fairs is a worthy one. The best products of the soil and of the hand of man are brought together, and all classes of society are thrown into communication, ideas are exchanged and the exchange of ideas comes, improvement in method. A friendly rivalry too, to excel one's neighbor induces him to exercise

the greatest care to produce a fine product. This means increased general exercise in all lines of production.

A "GRAND YOUNG MAN."

Hon. Hugh John Macdonald has been holding meetings throughout Manitoba to organize for the next campaign. The Brandon Times describes his progress as "triumphal," the talented son of Canada's Grand Old Man arousing everywhere a great enthusiasm. At Brandon he delivered a brilliant address on Manitoba affairs, winding up with a few remarks of widespread interest, as follows:—

"Though a majority of the members present to Ottawa at the last election were supporters of Laurier, yet in the popular voice of Canada, there was a majority of 10,000 in favor of the Conservative party. The party went down fighting for a principle, but they did not go down for a defeat. Every one admitted the necessity of the extension of the railway is desirable, but it is also maintained that millions should be expended on the railway, when a straight line could be obtained running through the large and fertile portions of the north shore, and of which they have been deprived too long."

Simple, but not Easy.

We understand from a Liberal source that the only way to return the Senate is to make it Reform.

An Evidence of Strength.

It is "the strongest Government Canada ever saw." It has raised the expenditure from $8 millions to $44 millions a year.

SPORTING NEWS.

A GREAT STUNNER.

A few days ago an employee of the Ashley stock farm, Foxboro, went up the half mile track with a mare by Monstone to work in a potato patch. The mare's foal by a 3 months old, 12 1/2 in. high and weighs 300 lbs.—did not leave the enclosure and man drove it out to the track. Just as the youngster reached the course the mare whinnied and the youngster struck out for his life at a foot as it had been cleared.

His little one got that looked up his tracks, which they had been brushing that morning, and Mr. Ashley measured and found it was 17 1/2 in. high and weighed 300 lbs. and was a very fine specimen. There can be no mistake in the matter, as the measurements were made in the presence of Mr. Ashley and Mr. J. H. Fairman, Samuel Webster, Stephen Patton and George Verne, and all agreed that it was a very fine specimen of its kind.

ANGLING.

Base are now biting quite freely, and some of the best catches have been made. On the 21st of July, Mr. J. H. Fairman, Samuel Webster, Stephen Patton and George Verne, and all agreed that it was a very fine specimen of its kind.

It Was Not a Mistake.

We made no mistake when we commenced buying our trunks and valises in the factory. The factory is in the States and the price is consequently lower and the goods better than in this country.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

THE FATAL MAN.
Le Revel Returns to the Minister of Public Works.

Le Revel again takes the warpath against Mr. Tarte this week. It calls him "The Fatal Man," and deals with him in the following style:

"In the history of every party it happens that an individual comes to the fore, one way or another by taking advantage of hardships which have made the sentiments less careful, or perhaps favored by certain reasons which render him useful, by deceit, by cunning, by necessity, and so on, towards the manufacturers for himself out of the surplus honesty of others the mask of virtue, with which he can so easily appear in public. This is the Fatal Man. And so he shows himself with others, that group is lost. Mr. Tarte will ruin the Liberal party and Laurier; by ruining Laurier he will destroy forever the chance we had of having a French Canadian Premier. The first scandal which has been made public is that of the Drummond Railway. Who was the cause? Mr. Tarte. The first investigation was for corruption with Mr. Tarte. And think that Messrs. against whom so much has been said, lasted five years without provoking an enquiry. With Tarte at Ottawa it did not take a year, just seven months. Liberals beware. Get rid of the Fatal Man."

CITY AND DISTRICT

"There are moments when I'd like to be alone," said the Ontario to the Sunday.

A meeting of the A. O. F. extension committee will be held at 8 o'clock this evening. It took the Hamilton nine hours to make the trip from Belleville to Kingston on Tuesday.

Irvine Rose was arrested last night by Sergeant McCord. He was lying asleep in his buggy in a front street gateway.

This year last night appeared a bench show at the forthcoming fair. It is now in turn for the town show to appear. They didn't see it free.

We have on the third floor of the INTELLIGENCER Office, the only first-class bindery in the city. Book-binding and repairing, quickly and neatly executed. Prices moderate.

We have reduced all our fine Chocolate Biscuits. You will find them extra value. See our lists on new coin for only $1.00 per pair. Boys' suits only $1.00—VIRNIE, L. & SONS.

Owing to the heavy rain the week the Boys' Brigade of St. Andrew's church have not had a very pleasant time in camp. They will remain at the Park Hill Wednesday next, when the brigade will be inspected.

Advertisers will be glad to note this fact: We positively assert that the circulation of the DAILY INTELLIGENCER is the largest of any local paper in the city. Our weekly edition is distributed by all other local weekly in Hastings county.

DIED AS HE READ.

R. S. Merrill Falls from the Chair in Napanee, Ont. on Tuesday.

A terribly sudden death occurred on Tuesday night at the Paisley House, Napanee, when R. S. Merrill, who was over-coming the boring of the Fredericksburg oil well, dropped dead.

He was sitting reading a book and without a moment's warning fell from his chair and never spoke. His wife and daughters were with him and medical aid was summoned, but the spark of life had fled.

You Never Can Tell

Just what some people will do. If Noah were here now he would think it was time to build, and if anybody wants the latest gear's furnishings and best value of all in lines of underwear he will go to Schuster's.

Damage by the Storm.

Reports from farmers in the city today confirm the damage to crops by the big rain storm. One of the leading farmers in Sidney said to-day that the growing crops were knocked down would rise again. It will be several days before harvesting operation can be resumed.

Mr. E. D. Offlyn, of Madoc, who returned to-day from Michigan, says that damage is general all through western Ontario.

Amusement Notes.

THE BROWNS.

Everybody, old and young, big and little, will turn out to see C. B. Scantlebury, Klaw & Kellogg's wonderful spectacle, "Palmer Cox's Brownies," at the Carman Opera House, Sept. 7th. It is described as a successful performance throughout, and one that none should miss. We are to have the same large organization of 25 and all the most recent scenic effects, the specialties, etc., of the Brownies in New York. Even Palmer Cox, the famous inventor, will be here with the much talked-of production.

The Dog Show.

In yesterday's issue we spoke of the advisability of holding a bench show at the city at the time of the fair. Upon further enquiry we find that the time between now and the fair is too short to entertain any thought of such a thing this year. Possibly before next year's fair some arrangement will be entered into, whereby the fanciers may put their scheme into operation.

Not Unexpected.

The Belleville Sun, run by a graduate of the Hamilton Times and Toronto Globe, has hitherto posed as an independent. After three years of false pretences it is glad to announce that it was no information to anybody who had ever read the paper—Hamilton Spectator.

Another Tour.

Mr. Whitney will make another tour as soon as the harvest is well over. He expects to start upon his special tour on August 20th and will on this occasion make a journey into Nipissing and Algoma to spread Conservative teachings.

OBITUARY.

THE TWO-11 NEWS says: One by one the pioneer residents of Tweed are passing away. Mrs. Sarah Leslie, who has been a resident of Tweed and vicinity for upwards of forty-five years, breathed her last at her home, Bridge st., on Tuesday, July 20th, at the ripe old age of 89 years, four months and twenty days.

The subject of this sketch was born in the north of Ireland and came to Canada when she was just entering her young womanhood, in company with her married sister. This was in the year 1822, the year of the first outbreak of cholera in Canada. She settled in the province of Quebec and was there married to James Leslie, who died thirteen years ago last November at his home, Bagin, about thirty-five years ago, she, in company with her husband and family, moved to Upper Canada and settled at Kemptonville, and about forty-five years ago moved to Tweed, in which place and vicinity she has lived ever since.

She leaves two sons and two daughters to mourn her death: David, James, Miss Sarah and Mrs. Robert McGowan, all residents of Tweed, the eldest son, Leslie, having died at Kemptonville 54 years ago.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon last from a private residence, where a service was held by Rev. D. M. Martin, rector of the parish, and at which a large number turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed. From the home her remains were taken to the vault, where they will remain for a short time before interment.

Annual Rochester Excursion.

The steamer Alexandria will run an excursion to Rochester on Saturday, August 7th, for One Day. Boat will leave Belleville at 1:15 p.m. Passengers can have tickets extended for one week by applying to the purser on payment of one dollar extra.

The regiment will turn out and have an exhibition drill on the evenings of the fair.

These are placed in a cabinet at the rooms and can be seen by anyone.

The S. O. E. Excursion

This annual event to Kingston and the 1000 Islands came off yesterday. The committee had made preparations to handle a larger crowd than formerly, but owing to the inclement weather their extra exertions were not required. The party left here in the factory with all covers four sizes and is six stories high, trunks and valises are turned out in large quantities and the price is consequently lower and goods better than at the smaller factories in this country.—HARRIS & LOCKETT.

The storm was so severe that the trip to Alexandria Bay had to be abandoned, much to the regret of many of the passengers and the committee.

The following letter from Mr. Gillespie explains the situation:

KINGSTON, Ont., July 20, 1897. J. W. LONDON, Esq., Belleville.

DEAR SIR:—I beg to express the regret that the storm did not give us the opportunity to take your excursion—now here to the Thousand Islands and back, but owing to the state of the weather we were obliged to remain at Kingston.

The following letter from Mr. Gillespie explains the situation:

(Special to the INTELLIGENCER.)

RECESSIONAL.

(Bridged King's Contribution to the God of our fathers, known of old— Lord of our far-flung battle lines— Whom whose arm at hand we hold— Dismount on rain and pine— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The time! and the shouting dies— Oceans and mountains link the shore— Still stands Thine ancient altar, where— As humbly and a contrite heart, Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Preceded our navies melt away— On the land and the sea— The first— All our pomp of yesterday— One with the early morn— Judge of the Nat. on, spurs us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, at the sight of power, we have— Wild tones that have not been— Such boasts as the Gent. can boast— Or lesser breeds without the Law— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen hearts that pine for the— In the land and the sea— All valiant dust that builds on dust— And guarding calls not Thee to guard— For thy boast and the world— Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord!

Grave G. Connolly, of Richmond Green, N.B., says of Dr. Chase's Obituary Canon: "I read it in a very severe form for nearly five years. I used several so-called cures, but none were successful. Now, then, I am 80 years old. One box of Dr. Chase's Cathartic Compound cured me in ten days."

Political Pointers.

(The Huron Signal.)

Parliamentary hours are not life-times.

A cork-crow politician cannot work without a crowd.

Grab all and keep-all are great politicians.

The politician should serve the public and himself.

A politician is often made crooked by crooked advisers.

Soon or late the practical politician rides in a house.

Keep the lack of your hand for the politician who isn't straight.

There is only one step between the bad-wagon and the ice-cream.

In catch-as-catch-can, the highest grip doesn't usually win the throw.

The devil has a split tail, and the machine has a forked tongue.

The man who tries to give the marble heart must have a stony conscience.

A seat in Parliament is like a wooden leg, in that it does not run in the family.

The man who shops over with promises generally goes on by performances.

The plumb is bigger than the carroll, but the carroll gets there, just the same.

The crank and file win the election and the machine gets all the praise and hatred.

The people decide the election, straight, high-principled captains in politics.

There is no law to compel a man to hang on to public life after his usefulness is gone.

The day when politicians were offered constituencies on a silver salver is past and gone.

The saying, "By hook or by crook," was invented for the politician on nepotism bent.

A practical politician is, as a rule, a "promising" man. He promises more than he is able to perform.

The politician who owns a constituency, body and breeches, must be a big man and a straight man.

Struck by lightning is not anything like the lightning that strikes the crooked politician. The lightning strikes the crooked politician and he is a knowledge of the situation.

You can't run the mill with the water that is past, and a played-out politician can't run the mill with a past reputation.

The machine politician's prayer should be: "Keep my hands from picking and stealing, and my lips from speaking guile."

We have known men to live in humble places before election, who would fat and go to the city and live in the city.

When a politician attempts to back up against the will of the people it is a clear case of "Says who?" to the elephant, who are you shoving?

THE TROUBLE IN CANADA

Fanaticism Spreading in the Northwest Provinces.

Government Taking All Necessary Steps to Suppress the Spread of Fighting in South Africa in Which many Britishers Were Killed.

London, July 28.—The Times this morning prints a despatch from Simla, the capital of the Punjab, which gives the wave of fanaticism which is sweeping along the northwest frontier.
The story is curious, showing how quickly tribesmen can be gathered and how readily they respond to the appeal of fanaticism. The Chitral and pajin ended the Swat Valley has been terribly peaceful, trade has developed and the district has been contented
and have shown no signs of disturbance.
On Monday, however, without the least warning the local population underwent a sudden change.

The first news that reached Malakand was that the disturbance had occurred at Chitral, near Chitralgarh. A few hours later news was received that Mal-akand was in a state of alarm. It was later ascertained that a force of about 1000 men, armed with modern weapons,
had entered the district.

In the evening it was reported that the British troops had been defeated and preparations were made to send a reinforcement. The British troops, how-

The Iron Grip of Scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing the most painful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

"Nearly four years ago I became afflicted with scrofula and rheumatism.

Running sores broke out on my thighs.
Pieces of bone came out and an operation was contemplated. I had rheumatism in my legs, drawn up out of shape. I lost appetite, could not sleep. I was a perfect wreck. I continued to grow weaker and daily gave up the doctor's treatment to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon appetite came back; the sores commenced to heal.

My limbs straightened out and I threw away my crutches. I am now stout and happy and am earning, whereas four years ago I was a cripple. I strongly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla." EDWARD

BRITAIN, U.S. AND JAPAN

A Pretty Serious Middle Appears to be Coming Up.

Washington, July 28.—Public men in Washington were generally surprised when the announcement was made in the club which anticipates a few days ago
that the question of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty had been raised in the British Parliament in connection with the proposal to annex the Hawaiian Islands of the United States, and were consequentially prepared for the response of the British Government that the one question was not involved in the other.

The matter is regarded here with all the interest, because the Hawaiian Islands were the subject of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, and the validity of the treaty and the annexation of Hawaii, are under consideration by the American Congress, and both, in all probability, will receive attention during the next session. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, which has already reported upon the annexation Treaty, has undertaken an investigation of the present status of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, and the members of the committee have been actively engaged in having the question in charge, that is to say, the question of the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, and the annexation of Hawaii.

There is also a large element in the Senate which regards the treaty as an obstacle to the annexation of Hawaii.
Others hold that the treaty is an obstacle to the annexation of Hawaii, and that the treaty should be regarded as a Hawaiian question. One of the points in the debate is the question of the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, and the other is the question of the
annexation of Hawaii.

The Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, which was signed in 1850, provided that the United States and Great Britain should not acquire sovereignty over any of the Hawaiian Islands, and that the islands should remain under the sovereignty of the Hawaiian people.
